

F: SPEECHES DCI

OUTLINE OF TALK

29 February 1960

- (1) CIA is a non-political agency.
- (2) The role of CIA as a briefing agency of the government, primarily for the National Security Council, but also growingly for certain selected committees of the Congress.
- (3) What are our functions under law:
 - (a) Coordination of intelligence activities of other government agencies.
 - (b) Advise NSC concerning intelligence activities as they relate to national security. To recommend to NSC coordination.
 - (c) To correlate and evaluate intelligence related to national security and disseminate it.
 - (d) To perform services of common concern.
- (4) The vital need for security.

- (5) CIA's relations with other foreign services, and duty under law "to protect intelligence sources and methods from unauthorized disclosure."
- (6) The estimative process.
- (7) The missile mix-up.
- (8) Missile development 1943 to 1960.
- (9) The problems of intelligence in a Democracy as contrasted with a Dictatorship.